MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTOR ACADEMICS

Dear TRES Family,

As we reflect on another remarkable chapter in our academic journey, I am filled with immense pride in the achievements, growth, and spirit of collaboration that define THE RENAISSANCE Education System. This edition captures the energy, innovation, and dedication that our students, teachers, and school leaders bring to our classrooms every single day.

A true highlight of this year has been our Life Skills initiative, which placed communication, empathy, teamwork, decision-making, and emotional regulation at the heart of everyday learning. Through hands-on activities, from budgeting and currency exercises to cooking, gardening, and conflict-resolution role-plays, our students didn't just learn about life skills, they practised them. Watching our youngest learners fold clothes, run pretend shops, and navigate scenario-based challenges with such confidence is a powerful reminder that education is at its best when it prepares children for real life, not just examinations.

This spirit of engaged, experiential learning carried through the entire academic year. Our classrooms came alive with Open House and Inter-House Speech Competition activities, while Iqbal Day, Urdu Week, Milad-un-Nabi, and Pakistan Resolution Day deepened our students' connection to their cultural and national identity. Celebrations like Children's Day, Animal Day, World Food Day, Literary Week, Winter Fiesta, Sports Day, and Mother's Day ensured that joy, creativity, and community remained woven into every month of the school calendar, culminating in memorable moments like the Little Stars Extravaganza and our Shopping Gala, where young entrepreneurs and performers took centre stage.

Complementing this was our Project-Based Learning Showcase, which journeyed from school-level competitions to a National Showcase and Judging Ceremony, with entries like "My Healthy Restaurant," "Pure Drop," and "Child Labour: A Social Injustice" reflecting the depth of research and real-world thinking our students are now capable of. Our international Climate Action Project, undertaken in collaboration with Take Action Global, WWF, and NASA, further extended this learning beyond our classrooms and onto a global stage.

None of this would be possible without our teachers, who continued to grow through School Leadership and Teachers' Trainings, the Life Skills Webinar, DLP implementation sessions, and PBL Refresher workshops throughout the year, ensuring that every activity in our classrooms is backed by thoughtful planning and purpose.

I am also delighted to welcome our new TRES campuses from Nasir Bagh, Gujranwala, G-13, Gulistan-eJohar II, and Rahatabad – into our growing family, extending the TRES Touch to even more learners nationwide. Alongside this expansion, the launch of the new features of TRES AIMS, our digital portal, marks a meaningful step forward in strengthening school-parent partnership through real-time academic tracking and seamless communication.

As you turn these pages, I hope you find inspiration in the achievements we celebrate, pride in the progress we have made together, and renewed enthusiasm for the exciting journey that lies ahead. May this edition remind us that every success, no matter how small, is a stepping stone towards creating confident, compassionate, and future-ready individuals who will make a meaningful difference in society.

Happy Reading!

IGNITING GROWTH: OUR KEY INITIATIVES

INTERNATIONAL COLLABORATION; CLIMATE ACTION PROJECT

THE RENAISSANCE Education System joined a global learning collaboration through the Climate Action Project, supported by Take Action Global, WWF, and NASA. This was a powerful initiative led by the Head Office, which brought students and teachers together to explore meaningful ways to safeguard our planet. This global initiative connected classrooms across the network, giving students the opportunity to engage with a global audience. Through guided activities and hands-on projects, participants developed a deeper understanding of climate challenges and practical solutions. PROJECT BASED LEARNING

SHOWCASE JOURNEY

SCHOOL-BASED PBL SHOWCASE COMPETITION - CR

The journey toward national recognition began with the School-Based PBL Competitions, the first of three dynamic stages—School, Regional, and National. At this foundational level, student projects were proudly displayed in front of a live audience comprising parents, school leaders, and neutral judges.

The event offered a vibrant showcase of student creativity, critical thinking, and confidence. Each project presentation was followed by an interactive Q&A session, allowing students to articulate their ideas and respond to probing questions—bringing their learning to life.

Judges evaluated each entry using standardised rubrics, and the cumulative scores determined which teams would advance to the regional level, inching closer to the prestigious national platform.

This event not only celebrated student innovation, but also demonstrated the power of project-based learning to foster real-world skills and meaningful engagement.

PARENTS' TESTIMONIALS

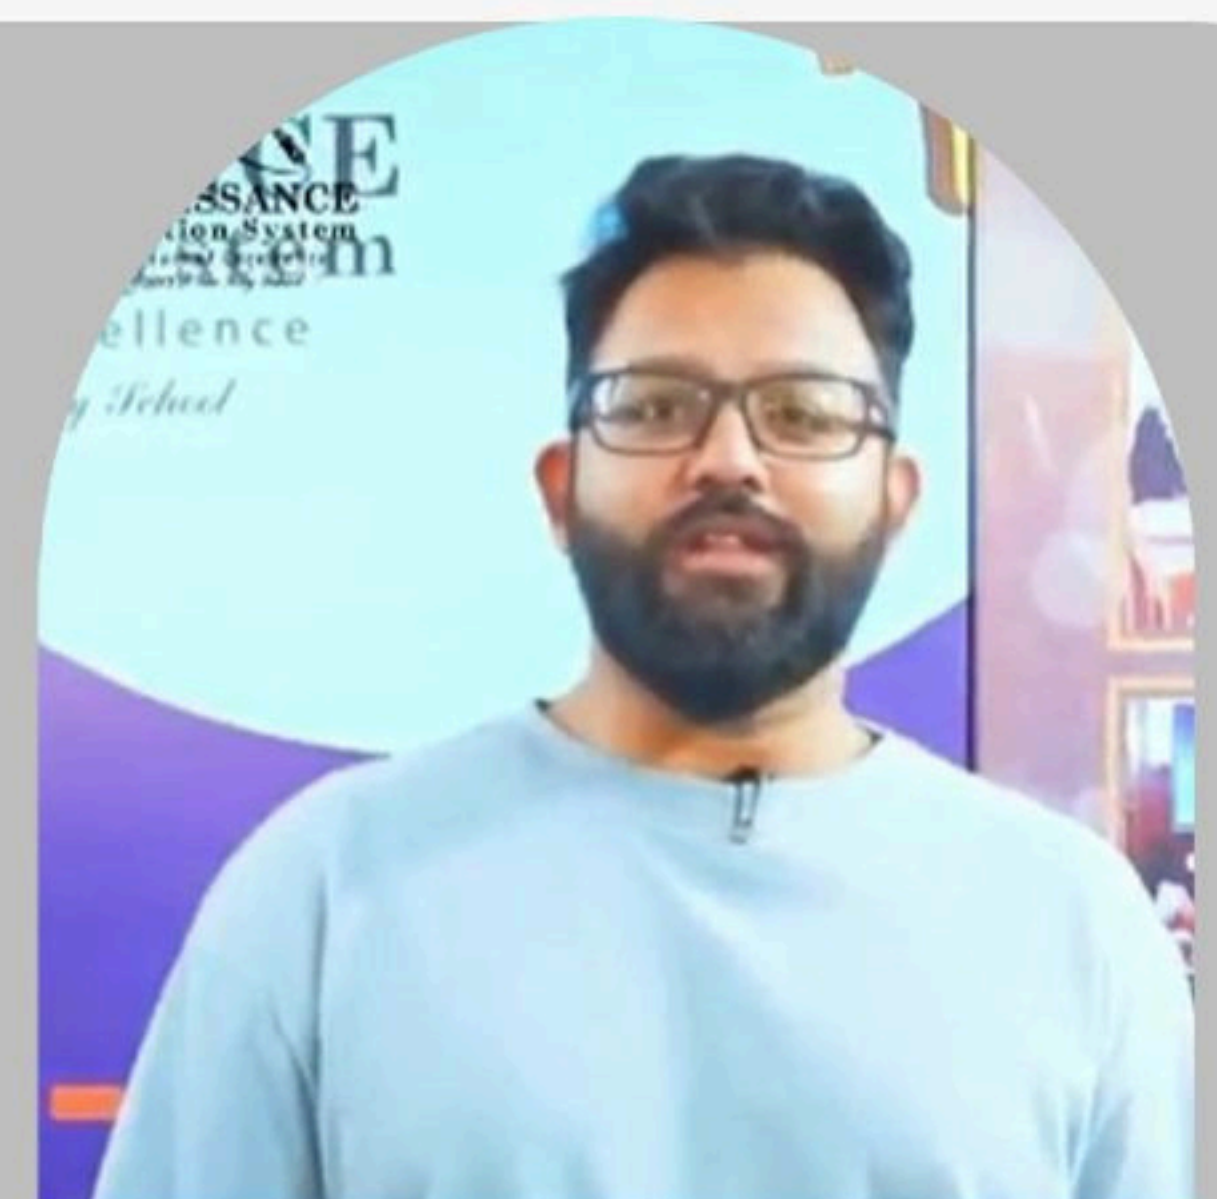

The PBL Journey this year left a lasting impression across our network. Here are a few exciting testimonials from the parents who praised the confidence and creativity their children displayed and commended the initiative for its focus on real-world problems.

I visited TRES today for the PBL showcase. The projects were great, like they are every year. It's a good effort from the kids. They learn new, everyday life-related things. It's a good initiative. I hope we get to see more of this again.

It was a really good opportunity for the students. They gain confidence by getting involved in these projects. It was a great experience. Seeing the students' confidence and creativity makes me feel that the education at this school is really good. Thank you.

I am really impressed by the projects prepared here. The students know everything. They are well-prepared and the teachers are very cooperative. Every class has done an excellent job. All the students know their projects inside out and it really seems like they made the projects themselves. They truly know what they're talking about.

The students have worked really well with the subjects they were given. I can see a very positive change in my child's behavior and in other students as well.
